GLOBAL RESET: PREMISES, CHALLENGES, AND PERSPECTIVES

17 November 2023

One of the labels that has been coined to describe the contemporary society is VUCA – vulnerability uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity. Under the circumstances when everything is in a state of flow and crisis, various fora have been pitching for the need of a global reset at societal, economic, educational, and human level. Hailed by some and contested, as a need, by others, global reset is a subject that has been stirring much controversy.

The 2023 edition of the LSP conference aims to tackle the subject of global reset at the nexus with communication. Particular issues that we would like to address are:

- How the global reset need has been communicated;
- How global reset theories have been received.
- Social, economic and technological transformations conducive to global reset;
- Conspiracy theories;
- World resetting policies;
- Transhumanist theories;
- Digitalization in education, and
- Overcoming limits: fictional representations.

Proposals for individual papers, roundtables or workshops can be sent by email by the 15th of September 2025 to the following email addresses: chipersorina2005@yahoo.com and lucocarta@yahoo.com. Confirmations of acceptance will be sent out by the 30th of September 2023.
